Virginia in order to verify the correct classification of the weapon.

approximately 20 passed before the ATF Agent returned a call to Detective Butler and verified that the weapon was classified as a 'handgun'.

gt. White ensured that the weapon, magazine, and rounds were returned to Mr. Embody and he was released.

MNPD officers cleared the call at 7:22pm. (see attached CAD printout)

he officers on the scene elected to wait on the information from the ATF Agent in regards to the correct classification of the weapon. Officers were relying on an 'expert' in the area of firearms classifications in order to ensure that the correct legal decision was made and to ensure that Mr. Embody's civil rights were protected. Although this was one of many steps that occurred during the investigation, it was crucial and necessary in order to protect Mr.

Embodys civil rights, the officers on the scene, citizens in the area, and the MNPD. The series of events that took place were time intensive, but were necessary. Officers were authorized under TCA 39-17-1351 to detain and disarm

Mr. Embody for the protection of the citizens and officers. Officer Smith completed a misdemeanor State Citation based upon belief that Mr. Embody was in possession of an AK-47 short rifle.
